SERVICES WE OFFER

Asset Management and Financial Planning Services

We offer fee-based investment advice, on a discretionary and non-discretionary basis, and financial planning to clients based on individual client needs and investment objectives. The clients' money is invested in specific, agreed upon asset classes such as fixed income instruments and common stocks. We do fundamental analysis of the global economy, industries, companies and products and investment markets. We utilize both publicly-available and proprietary data sources, including financial newspapers and magazines, corporate ratings services, company filings with the SEC, company press releases, and proprietary research.

We believe a well-managed portfolio should be diversified across a number of types of securities, and we therefore do not limit our advice to only certain types of securities. Depending on a client's circumstances, we offer advice as to all types of domestic and foreign equity securities, corporate and governmental debt securities, options, exchange traded funds (ETFs) and mutual funds, as well as advice regarding life insurance, annuities and futures. We generally do not provide advice on warrants or commercial paper. We occasionally offer advice regarding direct participation vehicles such as oil and gas or real estate partnerships and private equity offerings.

We offer our services as a wrap fee and a non-wrap fee. Wrap fee arrangements are generally executed with clients for that portion of their assets under management with an independent/third party manager. All other client assets under management are generally covered under a non-wrap fee arrangement. All fees charged under both arrangements are set forth under Item 5 - Fees and Compensation. Additional information regarding the Wrap Fee program is available in the Wrap Fee Program Brochure.

Clients may and sometimes do impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

We do not issue any publications or reports on a subscription basis or for a fee.

Recommendation of Independent Advisers

Where warranted and agreed to with the client, we may use a third-party manager to make recommendations regarding specific securities within the agreed upon asset allocation and execute the investment recommendations.

ZEGA Financial LLC

ZEGA Financial LLC (ZEGA), a licensed Investment Advisory Firm with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), is a third-party manager whose investment services we may engage. We have entered into a Third-Party Advisory Agreement with ZEGA for their services the details of which are as follows:

Relationship with ZEGA: There is no affiliation between our firm and ZEGA. Our firm acts as an independent contractor with ZEGA, not as their agent, representative or employee.

Fees: Our firm is paid from the management fee received and retained by ZEGA from the Client's account. ZEGA does not charge our clients any additional fees or expenses because of the Third-Party Advisory Agreement. ZEGA's fees are set forth in their disclosure documents (ADV Part 2A and/or WRAP Brochure) which is/are provided by our firm.

ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

As of December 31, 2019, we had discretionary assets under management of $76,264,304.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Our Basic Fee Schedule

We offer our asset management services as a wrap fee and a non-wrap fee program. Generally, assets managed by an agreed upon third party/independent adviser are covered by a wrap fee arrangement. All other asset management services are on a non-wrap fee arrangement.

Our fees are the same for our wrap and non-wrap fee arrangements. All fees are negotiable. In general, our fees are as follows:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee
Up to $1,000,000	1%
Next $4,000,000	.75%
Amount over $5,000,000	Negotiable

Fees are payable in advance in quarterly increments, based upon the asset value as of the first day of the current quarterly billing period (or the initial value of the assets in the case of the establishment of a new account). The billing periods applicable to each client are based upon the month-end nearest to the original date the client's account was established.

Fee Payment Options

Our clients may select from two options to pay for our services:

- Direct debiting (preferred). At the inception of the relationship and after the beginning of each billing period thereafter, we will notify your custodian of the amount of the fee due and payable to us through our fee schedule and contract. You and your custodian will see exactly how our requested fee is calculated and will be able to check the calculation. The custodian will deduct the fee from your account or, if you have more than one account, from the account you have designated to pay our advisory fees. Each month, you will receive a statement directly from your custodian showing all transactions, positions and credits/debits into or from your account, including in applicable months the advisory fees you have been charged.

- Pay-by-check. At the inception of an account and after the beginning of each billing period thereafter, we will send the client an invoice for our services. You will see exactly how our requested fee is calculated and you will be able to check the calculation. You may pay us by check or wire transfer.

Additional Fees and Expenses

Advisory fees payable to us do not include all the fees you will pay when we purchase or sell securities for your account(s). The following list of fees or expenses are what you may pay directly to third parties, whether a security is being purchased, sold or held in your account(s) under our management. Fees charged are by the broker-dealer or custodian, not M & B Investment Advisors, LLC. We do not receive, directly or indirectly, any of these fees charged to you, except as noted above. They are paid to your broker, custodian or the mutual fund or other investment you hold. Possible third-party fees include:

- Brokerage commissions
- Transaction fees
- Exchange fees
- SEC fees
- Mutual fund sales loads or 12b-1 fees
- Advisory fees and administrative fees charged by mutual funds and exchange traded funds
- Advisory fees charged by sub-advisers (if any are used for your account)
- Custodial fees
- Deferred sales charges (on mutual funds or annuities)
- Odd-lot differentials
- Deferred sales charges (charged by mutual funds)
- Transfer taxes
- Wire transfer and electronic fund processing fees
- Commissions or mark-ups / mark-downs on security transactions
- Insurance commissions and referral fees

Please see Item 12 of this brochure for a further discussion of our brokerage practices.

Account Cancellation and Refunds

Client accounts may be cancelled at any time by either the client or M & B Investment Advisors, LLC upon 15 days prior written notice.

Since our fees are payable in advance, a refund will be due you in the event your account is closed before the end of the billing period for which fees were paid, after the ten-day account closure notice period. Refunds are calculated by dividing the number of days remaining in the billing period after the 15-day notice takes effect by the total number of days in the billing period, times the total amount of fees that were collected in advance for that particular billing period.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client account (so-called performance based fees). Our advisory fee compensation is charged only as disclosed in Item 5 above.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

We may provide our services to all types of clients, including among others the following:

- Individuals, including high net worth individuals
- Trusts, estates and charitable organizations
- Corporations or other business entities
- Endowments and foundations
- Not for profit entities
- IRAs and Roth IRAs
- 401(k) plans (or individuals' accounts in such plans)
- 403(b) plans (or individuals' accounts in such plans)

There is no minimum account size required to open an account or to maintain an account once opened.

Under certain Department of Labor fiduciary regulations which were originally scheduled to become effective on April 10, 2017, our firm, and all of our supervised persons, are deemed to be fiduciaries with respect to all clients who are ERISA plans, ERISA plan participants, and/or owners of Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) – referred to generally as “Retirement Investors.” ERISA refers to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. While the effectiveness of these regulations has now been postponed for 60 days, and they may or may not become effective at the end of that period, we have always been deemed to be fiduciaries to all or our clients (both Retirement Investors and all others) under existing federal and state securities laws and will continue to govern ourselves accordingly.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Analysis

We study individual companies and their products; the industries in which they operate; and how they are affected by global economic and monetary policy. We pay particular attention to corporate financial statements. We study projected earnings per share growth rates and the price/earnings ratio we might have to pay for the projected earnings per share growth.

We place great emphasis upon dividend growth, projecting how fast individual dividends might grow in percentage terms and relative to the projected growth of the average Standard & Poors' 500 Index dividend yield. We also note dividend pay-out ratios, and whether the dividend pay-out ratio might rise, fall or stay the same.

We make extensive use of corporate bonds as well as governmental bonds. When analyzing bonds for potential investment, we assess the following factors:

- purpose of the debt issue proceeds
- finances of the issuer
- size of the debt issue
- debt ratings
- debt covenants
- debt ratios
- interest coverage ratios
- demographic trends (in the case of government bonds)
- taxation trends (in the case of government bonds)

Investment Strategy

We follow an equity strategy that combines large cap value stocks with multi-cap growth and momentum stocks. We also provide individuals with custom portfolios to meet their personal investment strategies, designed to achieve each client's unique financial goals.

In certain situations, a strategy we devise for a client may involve frequent trading, for example, where a client wishes to maximize account cash flow and opportunities to realize capital gains or to obtain higher income yielding bonds present themselves frequently. In such cases our goal is to maximize return through trading, but clients must recognize that frequent trading can negatively affect overall investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

In addition to purchasing and holding securities, we may recommend option writing strategies such as covered calls. This strategy involves use of a call option written against an existing position. The investment risk of a covered call option includes risk of the price of the underlying security rising above the option strike price plus option premium resulting in a potential loss.

Risk of Loss

We do not believe that our particular investment strategies, or the specific securities we recommend to our clients, involve significant or unusual risks that are not inherent in investing generally. However, all investments in securities involve a potential risk of loss of principal (invested amount) and any profits that have not been realized (the securities were not sold to "lock in" the profit), and we cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience a loss of your account assets. Some, but certainly not all of the reasons for this inherent risk of any investing include the following:

- When interest rates rise, bond prices decline. Generally, long maturity bonds are more volatile than short maturity bonds; low coupon bonds are more volatile than high coupon bonds; low quality bonds may be more volatile than high quality bonds.
- Recession, depression or other economic conditions
- Events such as a credit crisis, followed by prolonged periods of economic instability or recession, that lead to:
 - Significant or prolonged decline in the value of a particular security or group of securities and impairment of assets

- Significant decline in investment income due to reduced or eliminated dividend payouts from a particular security or group of securities
- Prolonged low interest rate environments or other factors that limit the ability to generate growth in investment income, or interest rate fluctuations that result in declining values of fixed-maturity investments
- Actions of federal, state or local governments or agencies defaulting on debt obligations or threatening to do so, or raising taxes
- Adverse outcomes from legal or regulatory developments
- An event such as when the U.S. stock market declined from October 2007 into early March 2009, and only U.S. Treasury Bills maintained their value as the credit-worthiness of assets around the world such as money funds, mortgages, stocks and bonds were called into question.
- Events or actions, including unauthorized intentional circumvention of controls, that reduce a government's, government agency's, corporation's, municipality's, or money fund's internal accounting controls
- Events such as an epidemic, natural catastrophe or terrorism that could hamper or disrupt the operations of a government, government agency, corporation, municipality, or money fund
- The investment risk of a covered call option includes risk of the price of the underlying security rising above the option strike price plus option premium resulting in a potential loss.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Not applicable.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We are not a registered broker-dealer, and none of our supervised persons or other employees are registered representatives of any broker-dealer firms. We have no affiliation and will receive no compensation from:

- Investment companies
- Other investment advisers
- Financial planning firms
- Banking or thrift institutions
- Law firms
- Pension consultants
- Real estate brokers or dealers
- Sponsors or syndicators of limited partnerships

Mr. Bain and Mr. Marty are owners in the certified public accounting firm MMB CPAs & Advisors. They do provide tax planning and preparation services mostly during the tax season.

Mr. Bain and Mr. Marty offer insurance services and sales. Mr. Bain offers these services through a wholly-owned business, Tax and Wealth Planning Strategies, LLC. Mr. Marty offers these services through an independent insurance agency, Ted Marty & Associates, Inc. in which he is a shareholder.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

As an investment adviser registered with the Ohio Division of Securities, our firm is not required to have a Code of Ethics. However, as a matter of “best practices” we have chosen to include a Code of Ethics as part of our Policies and Procedures Manual. This Code of Ethics is designed to ensure we meet our fiduciary obligation to our clients (and prospective clients) and to create a culture of compliance within our firm. We will provide a copy of our Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client at any time upon request.

Our Code is comprehensive, is distributed to each employee at the time of hire, and annually thereafter (if there are changes). We also supplement the Code with annual training and on-going monitoring of employee activity.

Our Code includes the following:

- Requirements related to the confidentiality of your account information
- Prohibitions on:

- Insider trading (if we are in possession of material, non-public information)
- The acceptance of gifts and entertainment that exceed our policy standards
- Reporting of gifts and business entertainment
- Pre-clearance of employee and firm transactions
- Reporting (on an on-going and quarterly basis) all personal securities transactions (what we call “reportable securities” as mandated by regulation)
- On an annual basis, we require all employees to re-certify to our Code, identify members of their household and any account over which they have “beneficial ownership” (i.e. an account they directly own or an account over which they have authority to purchase and sell or vote the securities, securities held in certificate form and all securities they own at that time).

Our Code does not prohibit personal trading by employees (or our firm). As you may imagine, as a professional investment adviser, we follow our own advice. As a result, we may simultaneously purchase or sell the same or similar securities (or securities that are suitable for an employee or related account but not suitable for any client, including you) on exactly the same terms as our clients. We recognize that there is a possibility that our firm or its employees who trade in the same securities as clients might benefit from a client’s market activity in that security. However, in light of the relatively small volumes involved, we believe it is unlikely to occur. Nevertheless, we attempt to minimize any such conflicts of interest through the operation of our Code of Ethics, which requires all personal transactions by our supervised persons to be reviewed and approved in advance, and because any personal trading may only be conducted after client trading is completed.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Broker-Dealer Recommendations and Selection

For client assets not managed by a third-party manager, we recommend that the client use TD Ameritrade as the custodian. We recommend TD Ameritrade because their trading platform is robust and trading fees are competitive and among the lowest in the industry.

For client assets managed by a third-party manager, we recommend that the client use the custodian recommended and used by the third-party manager. The third-party managers we are currently using recommend UBS Financial Services, Inc and TD Ameritrade.

If a client chooses to designate a specific broker-dealer for the client’s transactions, we will attempt to honor that designation. However, this may not be possible.

We do not choose brokers based on “soft dollar” benefits we might receive from them. In fact, we do not solicit or accept soft dollar benefits from any brokerage firms.

Brokerage For Client Referrals

Our broker selections and recommendations are not based upon client referrals we might receive from particular brokerage firms. We do not compensate any broker/dealer firms for referrals.

Client Directed Brokerage

Our clients, may, by written notice to us, direct that transactions for their account be placed with specific brokers, dealers or banks. We will attempt to honor such client requests but that is not always possible. However, the client must recognize that any such direction may result in the account paying higher brokerage commissions or receiving less favorable prices than might otherwise be possible.

Block Trading

From time to time we may recommend the purchase or sale of a security by a number of our clients at the same point in time. This will provide an opportunity to obtain favorable terms from a brokerage firm by grouping or “bunching” multiple trades together. In such cases, we employ procedures designed to ensure that all of our clients fairly share the benefits of such blocked trades on a pro rata basis. These procedures include:

- A requirement to document in advance all client accounts which will participate in a block trade and the means of allocating available securities among our accounts (the “Allocation Statement”).
- That all participating accounts will receive the same execution price or average share price for all transactions made by M & B Investment Advisors, LLC in a particular security on a particular day (subject to the differences caused by the use of particular brokerage firms specified by clients which may have their own differing fee schedules.)
- When block trades are filled in their entirety, they will be allocated as stated in the advance Allocation Statement. If the order is only partially filled, it will be allocated on a pro rata basis, or in the case of very small accounts or accounts with special requirements (such as cash flow or tax exposure), on a de minimus basis in which such accounts may receive a full allocation before other accounts are allocated on the pro rata basis.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

All accounts are reviewed formally by Michael W. Bain, Jr., our Chief Compliance Officer, on a monthly basis. Each account will be reviewed by reviewing the percentage invested in each broad class of assets (e.g., equities, fixed income, or temporary cash equivalents) to the total amount of assets; reviewing the percentage that each security in a class is to the total assets in the class; examining each asset in the account to see if the assets are believed to still be allocated appropriately to best achieve the client's stated investment objectives within the risk parameters that the client is willing to accept.

Our clients receive regular monthly brokerage statements from their chosen broker-dealers. We also conduct in-person or telephone meetings with each of our clients on a monthly, quarterly or semiannual basis, depending upon client needs, in which we personally review their account status.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not receive any compensation or economic benefits for providing investment advice to our clients, other than the fees paid by the clients. We do not presently compensate any third parties for referring clients to us. In the future, if a client were to be introduced to us by a third party, whether affiliated or unaffiliated, we could pay such a third party solicitor a fee as permitted by Rule 206(4)-3 promulgated under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 or corresponding state laws, including the requirement of a written solicitor agreement and the requirement of specific disclosures to the client. Any fees would be paid solely from the investment management fees we earn from the referred client and would not result in any additional charge to the client.

Item 15 – Custody

We do not maintain custody of any client assets, except in the very limited circumstances described below. Clients must appoint an independent broker-dealer, bank or other qualified custodian to hold and maintain their investment assets. All such custodians should provide statements to the clients at least quarterly. We strongly urge you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Because we bill quarterly in advance, we will receive fees from our clients prior to the time they are actually earned by us by providing services for the quarter in question. The unearned fees in our possession, which can be for up to three months, is a form of custody. Likewise, in the case of clients who authorize us to directly debit their custodial accounts for the payment of fees (see Item 5 above), our ability to do so is also a form of custody of client funds. However, in both cases these practices are permitted by applicable federal and state rules and therefore do not subject our firm to regulatory requirements applicable to custodial investment advisers, such as the requirement to have and to provide to clients an audited balance sheet each year.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

We accept discretionary authority to manage accounts on behalf of our clients. This authority is established by means of express language included in our portfolio management agreement as well as through authorization forms required by the applicable brokerage firms. Our clients do not customarily restrict our discretionary authority but are free to do so if they wish.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

We do not accept authority from our clients to vote the securities they own, and we do not, as a matter of course, advise our clients or take any other actions with respect to voting client securities.

Item 18 – Financial Information

MBIA is not required to disclose any financial information pursuant to this Item due to the following:

- The firm does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $500 in fees six months or more in advance;

- The firm does not have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients; and
- The firm has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

Item 19 – Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

Michael W. Bain, Jr. and Kurt A. Marty are the sole owners of M & B Investment Advisors, LLC , and Mr. Bain is our Chief Compliance Officer. You can find information about their education and background in the attached Brochure Supplements. Except for the business affiliations noted in Item 10, neither Mr. Marty nor Mr. Bain is involved in any business activities. Neither our firm nor either of Mr. Bain or Mr. Marty receives performance-based fees, and neither Mr. Marty nor Mr. Bain has ever been found liable in any arbitration, civil or regulatory proceedings involving investment-related claims, fraud, theft, bribery or other dishonest, unfair or unethical practices.

Credential Explanations

Certified Public Certified Public Accountant (CPA) CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two-year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majorities of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and 20 Copyright Dinsmore & Shohl 2013 risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;

Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;

Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and

Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Credential Explanations

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two-year period or 120 hours over a three-year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majorities of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS) The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct and is encouraged to follow AICPA's Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice. To maintain their PFS credential, the recipient must complete 60 hours of financial planning CPE credits every three years. The PFS credential is administered through the AICPA.

Item 4 - Services, Fees, and Compensation

The M & B Investment Advisors, LLC Wrap Program (the “Program”) is an investment advisory program sponsored by MBIA. The Program provides clients with the ability to trade in certain investment products without incurring separate brokerage commissions or transaction charges.

To join the Program, a client must:

- 1) Complete an investor profile that describes the client’s financial needs, investment objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance, as well as any other factors relevant to the client’s specific financial situation and any other supporting documentation the Program requires;
- 2) Complete the investment advisory fee agreement (the “Agreement”) with G & A;
- 3) Complete a new account agreement with UBS, or another broker dealer MBIA approves for participation in the Program (“Financial Institution”); and
- 4) Open a securities brokerage account with the Financial Institution and deposit those assets designated for participation in the Program into the account.

After an analysis of any information provided by the client to MBIA, MBIA assists the client in developing an appropriate investment strategy for the assets in their accounts. Thereafter, all clients are encouraged to discuss their needs, goals, and objectives with MBIA and to keep MBIA informed of any changes. MBIA contacts clients as frequent as once per quarter but at least annually to review its previous services and/or recommendations and to determine whether changes should be made to their investment strategy.

Management of Your Portfolio

All clients in the Program grant MBIA discretionary authority to buy, sell, and otherwise trade in the type of securities described in Item 6, below for their accounts and to liquidate previously-purchased securities that the client has transferred to their Accounts. Assets are managed by MBIA investment advisor representatives.

Fees for the Program

Clients in the Program pay a single annualized fee for participation in the Program (the “Program Fee”). The Program Fee is prorated and charged quarterly, in advance, based upon the value of the assets under the Program as of the first day of the current billing period. The Program Fee varies (generally between 0.75% and 1%) depending upon the market value of the assets under management of the client and the type of investment management services to be rendered.

MBIA, in its sole discretion, may negotiate to charge a lesser Program Fee based upon certain criteria (i.e., anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing client, account retention, pro bono activities, etc.).

Fee Comparison

Under the Program, clients receive both investment advisory services and the execution of transactions for a single, combined annualized fee, the Program Fee. Participation in the Program may cost the client more or less than purchasing such services separately. The number of transactions made in the client's accounts, as well as the commissions charged for each transaction, determines the relative cost of the Program versus paying for execution on a per transaction basis and paying a separate fee for advisory services. The Program Fee may be higher or lower than fees charged by other sponsors of comparable investment advisory programs.

Other Charges

Clients may incur certain charges imposed by third parties in addition to the Program Fee, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or exchange-traded fund in the account, which is disclosed in the fund's prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

Item 5 - Account Requirements and Types of Clients

MBIA does not impose a stated minimum fee or minimum portfolio value for participation in the Program. Certain Independent Managers may, however, impose more restrictive account requirements and varying billing practices than MBIA. In these instances, MBIA may alter its corresponding account requirements and/or billing practices to accommodate those of the Independent Managers.

The Program participants may include, but are not limited to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and business entities.

Item 6 - Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

MBIA acts as the sponsor and portfolio manager to the Program. Certain wrap programs involve the services of multiple parties in these capacities, which may involve additional conflicts of interest that the sponsor would be required to disclose in this section.

Portfolio Management

MBIA manages its clients' investment portfolios on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis.

For accounts managed through the Program, MBIA primarily allocates assets among Independent Managers, mutual funds, ETFs, individual debt and equity securities, and options in accordance with the investment objectives of its individual clients. The firm also provides advice about any type of legacy position or investment otherwise held in its clients' portfolios.

Clients may also engage MBIA to advise on certain investment products that are not maintained at their primary custodian, such as assets held in employer sponsored retirement plans and qualified tuition plans (i.e., 529 plans). In these situations, MBIA recommends the allocation of client assets among the various investment options available with the product. Client assets are generally maintained at the custodian designated by the product's provider.

MBIA tailors its advisory services to accommodate the needs of its clients and continuously seeks to ensure that its clients' portfolios are managed in a manner consistent with their specific investment profiles. Clients are advised to promptly notify MBIA if there are changes in their financial situation or if they wish to place any limitations on the management of their portfolios. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions or mandates on the management of their accounts if MBIA determines, in its sole discretion, the conditions will not materially impact the performance of a portfolio strategy or prove overly burdensome to the firm's management efforts.

Selection or Recommendation of Independent Managers

MBIA evaluates various information about the Independent Managers in which it recommends or selects to manage client portfolios under the Program. The firm generally reviews a variety of different resources, which may include the Independent Managers' public disclosure documents, materials supplied by the Independent Managers themselves, and other third-party analyses it believes are reputable. To the extent possible, the firm seeks to assess the Independent Managers' investment strategies, past performance and risk results in relation to its clients' individual portfolio allocations and risk exposures. MBIA also takes into consideration each Independent Manager's management style, returns, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing and research capabilities, among other related factors. The same criteria are used by the firm to select or recommend the replacement of an Independent Manager.

MBIA generally monitors the performance of those accounts being managed by Independent Managers by reviewing the account statements and trade confirmations produced by the Financial Institutions, as well as other performance information furnished by the Independent Managers and/or other third-party providers. The firm does not verify the accuracy of any such performance information and does not ensure its compliance with presentation standards. Clients are advised that any performance information they receive from the Independent Managers may not be calculated on a uniform and consistent basis. Clients should compare all supplemental materials with the account statements they receive from their respective custodians.

The terms and conditions under which the client engages an Independent Manager are set forth in a separate written agreement between MBIA or the client and the designated Independent Manager. None of the Independent Managers that serve as a portfolio manager under the Program are affiliates of MBIA.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

MBIA does not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client account (so-called performance based fees).

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

MBIA studies individual companies and their products; the industries in which they operate; and how they are affected by global economic and monetary policy. MBIA pays particular attention to corporate financial statements. MBIA studies projected earnings per share growth rates and the price/earnings ratio we might have to pay for the projected earnings per share growth.

MBIA places great emphasis upon dividend growth, projecting how fast individual dividends might grow in percentage terms and relative to the projected growth of the average Standard & Poors' 500 Index dividend yield. MBIA also notes dividend pay-out ratios, and whether the dividend pay-out ratio might rise, fall or stay the same.

MBIA makes extensive use of corporate bonds as well as governmental bonds. When analyzing bonds for potential investment, we assess the following factors:

- purpose of the debt issue proceeds
- finances of the issuer
- size of the debt issue

M & B Investment Advisors, LLC Wrap Fee Brochure

- debt ratings
- debt covenants
- debt ratios
- interest coverage ratios
- demographic trends (in the case of government bonds)
- taxation trends (in the case of government bonds)

MBIA follows an equity strategy that combines large cap value stocks with multi-cap growth and momentum stocks. MBIA also provides individuals with custom portfolios to meet their personal investment strategies, designed to achieve each client's unique financial goals.

In certain situations, a strategy MBIA devises for a client may involve frequent trading, for example, where a client wishes to maximize account cash flow and opportunities to realize capital gains or to obtain higher income yielding bonds present themselves frequently. In such cases MBIA's goal is to maximize return through trading, but clients must recognize that frequent trading can negatively affect overall investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

In addition to purchasing and holding securities, MBIA may recommend option writing strategies such as covered calls. This strategy involves use of a call option written against an existing position. The investment risk of a covered call option includes risk of the price of the underlying security rising above the option strike price plus option premium resulting in a potential loss.

RISK OF LOSS

MBIA does not believe that our particular investment strategies, or the specific securities we recommend to our clients, involve significant or unusual risks that are not inherent in investing generally. However, all investments in securities involve a potential risk of loss of principal (invested amount) and any profits that have not been realized (the securities were not sold to "lock in" the profit), and MBIA cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience a loss of your account assets. Some, but certainly not all of the reasons for this inherent risk of any investing include the following:

- When interest rates rise, bond prices decline. Generally, long maturity bonds are more volatile than short maturity bonds; low coupon bonds are more volatile than high coupon bonds; low quality bonds may be more volatile than high quality bonds.

M & B Investment Advisors, LLC Wrap Fee Brochure

- Recession, depression or other economic conditions
- Events such as a credit crisis, followed by prolonged periods of economic instability or recession, that lead to:
 - Significant or prolonged decline in the value of a particular security or group of securities and impairment of assets
 - Significant decline in investment income due to reduced or eliminated dividend payouts from a particular security or group of securities
- Prolonged low interest rate environments or other factors that limit the ability to generate growth in investment income, or interest rate fluctuations that result in declining values of fixed-maturity investments
- Actions of federal, state or local governments or agencies defaulting on debt obligations or threatening to do so, or raising taxes
- Adverse outcomes from legal or regulatory developments
- An event such as when the U.S. stock market declined from October 2007 into early March 2009, and only U.S. Treasury Bills maintained their value as the credit-worthiness of assets around the world such as money funds, mortgages, stocks and bonds were called into question.
- Events or actions, including unauthorized intentional circumvention of controls, that reduce a government's, government agency's, corporation's, municipality's, or money fund's internal accounting controls
- Events such as an epidemic, natural catastrophe or terrorism that could hamper or disrupt the operations of a government, government agency, corporation, municipality, or money fund
- The investment risk of a covered call option includes risk of the price of the underlying security rising above the option strike price plus option premium resulting in a potential loss.

Voting of Client Securities

MBIA does not accept authority from our clients to vote the securities they own, and we do not, as a matter of course, advise our clients or take any other actions with respect to voting client securities.

Item 7 - Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

Clients participating in the Program generally grant MBIA the authority to discuss certain non-public information with the Independent Managers engaged to manage their accounts. Depending upon the specific arrangement, the firm may be authorized to disclose various personal information including, without limitation: names, phone numbers, addresses, social security numbers, tax identification numbers and account numbers. MBIA may also share certain information related to its clients' financial positions and investment objectives in an effort to ensure that the Independent Managers' investment decisions remain aligned with its clients' best interests. This information is communicated on an initial and ongoing basis, or as otherwise necessary to the management of its clients' portfolios.

Item 8 - Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

There are no restrictions on a clients' ability to contact and consult with MBIA or the Independent Managers.

Item 9 - Additional Information

Disciplinary Information

MBIA has not been involved in any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of management.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

INSURANCE SERVICES

Certain of MBIA's Supervised Persons, in their individual capacities, are also licensed insurance agents and, in such capacity, may recommend, on a fully-disclosed commission basis, the purchase of certain insurance products. A conflict of interest exists to the extent that MBIA recommends the purchase of insurance products where MBIA's Supervised Persons receive insurance commissions or other additional compensation.

RELATED CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Certain of MBIA's Supervised Persons, in their individual capacities, are also part owners in a certified public accounting firm, MMB CPAs & Advisors. A conflict of interest exists to the extent that MBIA recommends the services of MMB CPAs & Advisors where MBIA Supervised Persons receive other additional compensation.

Code of Ethics

MBIA and persons associated with MBIA (“Associated Persons”) are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients consistent with MBIA’s policies and procedures.

MBIA has adopted a code of ethics (“Code of Ethics”) made up of its personal securities transaction and insider trading policies and procedures. When MBIA is purchasing or considering for purchase any security on behalf of a client, no Covered Person (as defined below) may affect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the purchase or until a decision has been made not to purchase such security. Similarly, when MBIA is selling or considering the sale of any security on behalf of a client, no Covered Person may effect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the sale or until a decision has been made not to sell such security.

Unless specifically defined in MBIA’s procedures, neither MBIA nor any of MBIA’s associated persons may affect for himself or herself, for an associated person’s immediate family (e.g., spouse, minor children, and adults living in the same household as the associated person), or for trusts for which the associated person serves as a trustee or in which the associated person has a beneficial interest (collectively “Covered Persons”), any transactions in a security which is being actively purchased or sold or is being considered for purchase or sale, on behalf of any of MBIA’s clients.

The foregoing policies and procedures are not applicable to:

- Transactions effected in any account over which neither MBIA nor any of its Supervised Persons has any direct or indirect influence or control; and
- Transactions in securities that are: direct obligations of the government of the United States; bankers’ acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, and high quality short-term debt instruments, including repurchase agreements; or shares issued by registered open-end investment companies.

This policy has been established recognizing that some securities being considered for purchase and sale on behalf of MBIA’s clients trade in sufficiently broad markets to permit transactions by clients to be completed without any appreciable impact on the markets of such securities. Under certain limited circumstances, exceptions may be made to the policies stated above. MBIA will maintain records of these trades, including the reasons for any exceptions.

In accordance with applicable rules and regulations, MBIA also maintains and enforces written policies reasonably designed to prevent the unlawful use of material non-public information by MBIA or any of its Supervised Persons.

Clients and prospective clients may contact MBIA to request a copy of its Code of Ethics.

Review of Accounts and General Reports

MBIA monitors assets as part of an ongoing process while regular account reviews are conducted on at least a quarterly basis. Clients are provided with transaction confirmation notices and regular summary account statements directly from the Financial Institutions. Clients in the Program may also receive a report from MBIA that may include such relevant account and/or market-related information such as an inventory of account holdings and account performance. Clients should compare the account statements they receive from the Financial Institutions with those they receive from MBIA.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

MBIA does not currently provide compensation to any third parties for compensation. In the event a client is introduced to MBIA by a solicitor, MBIA may pay that solicitor a referral fee in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations. All referral fees are paid solely from MBIA Program fee and do not result in any additional charges to the firm's clients. In these situations, clients are advised of the solicitation relationship with MBIA and are provided with the appropriate Wrap Fee Program Brochure and/or Disclosure Brochure prior to or at the time the Agreement is executed. Additionally, any third-party solicitors who are not affiliated with MBIA also provide clients with a copy of the solicitor's disclosure statement containing the terms and conditions (including compensation) of the solicitation arrangement.

Financial Information

MBIA is not required to disclose any financial information pursuant to this Item due to the following:

- The firm does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $500 in fees six months or more in advance;
- The firm does not have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients; and
- The firm has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.
